Hello! Thank you for downloading this free eLearning storyboard template, designed by me, Sarah Wood.

My main ethos in developing eLearning is: "Don't reinvent the wheel."

I LOVE finding resources like this online and discovering the way other learning professionals tackle the wide field of Instructional Design.

I've developed this storyboard over my years of working in L&D, but I'll be honest – it's probably still in development (isn't everything?!)

I also prefer to use Bloom's Taxonomy as a foundation for building my courses – often with a bit of Mezirow's Ten Phases of Transformative Learning thrown in for good measure. After all – learning shouldn't just be about stuffing facts into someone's head! Learning should elicit a change in behaviour.

Depending on your content, purpose, design strategy and authoring tool/s, you may not need to use every section (Remember, Understand, Apply, Analyse, Evaluate, Create) in every chapter or module of your course.

Feel free to use this template as a starting point for building your own engaging, impactful and amazing eLearning courses!

And before you go, feel free to connect with me via my website or on LinkedIn!

Course Name		Asset Requirements: Will I need a video, graphic, PDF, Word doc, or other item? Will I need to create it or can I insert an existing asset?
Chapter/Module #
Chapter/Module Name
Remember: Recognise, List, Describe, Identify, Name, Locate
Understand: Interpret, Summarise, Paraphrase, Infer, Compare, Classify, Explain
Apply: Execute, Use, Illustrate, Teach, Solve, Modify, Choose, Calculate
Analyse: Compare, Contrast, Categorise, Differentiate, Investigate, Deconstruct
Evaluate: Critique, Hypothesise, Check, Experiment, Judge, Test
Create: Design, Construct, Plan, Write, Propose		